

No comparisons are made across name and subject authority records.

The heading strings undergoing comparisons according to these rules are assumed to be normalized according to the attached character normalization table in Appendix A. Comparisons are between tag groups, with the following conventions:

1. Name headings. (Tags 100/110/111/130/151)

1.1 A field 100, 110, 111, 130, 151 may not normalize to any field 100, 110, 111, 130, 151 in another record.

1.2 A field 500, 510, 511, 530, 551 must normalize to the same string as a 100, 110, 111, 130, 151 in the same tag group in another record.

1.3 A field 400, 410, 411, 430, 451 may not normalize to the same string as any 100, 110, 111, 130, 151 in the same or another record. (Note a)

1.4 A field 4XX may normalize to the same string as another 4XX in the same or another record.

1.5 A field 7XX is not compared.

Note a: If on input, a 4XX normalizes to the same string as a 1XX in the same or another record, then one of the two is qualified.

Exceptions: (1) if it is not possible to qualify a conflicting 100 or 400, then the 400 is changed to a 500; (2) when a 4XX is a pre-AACR2 reference, the reference is deleted, since such 4XXs cannot be qualified or changed into 5XXs.

2. Subject headings. (Tags 100/110/111/130/151/150/155/180/181/182/185) (Note b)

2.1 A field 100, 110, 111, 130, 151 may not normalize to any field 1XX in another record. (Note c)

2.2 A field 150, 155, 180, 181, 182, 185 may not normalize to the same string in that same tag group in another record.

2.3 A field 500, 510, 511, 530, 550, 551, 555, 580, 581, 582, 585 must normalize to the same string as a 100, 110, 111, 130, 150, 151, 155, 180, 181, 182, 185 in the same tag group in another record.

2.4 A field 400, 410, 411, 430, 451 may not normalize to the same string as any 1XX in the same or another record; a field 450, 455, 480, 481, 482, 485 may not normalize to the same string as a 150, 155, 180, 181, 182, 185 in the same tag group, in the same or another record.

2.5 A field 4XX may normalize to the same string as another 4XX in the same or another record.

2.6 A field 7XX is not compared.

Note b: These rules also apply to subject headings for children (008/11) = b) when comparing within that thesaurus. Headings for children are not compared with LCSH headings.

Note c: Fields 111 and 130 are strings duplicated from name headings. Records with these headings may contain a reference structure appropriate to subjects. LC does not plan to create 181 headings that conflict with 151 headings (geographic subdivision forms will be recorded in field 781 if appropriate).

$w - Control subfield

Subfield $w contains up to four character positions (designated as $w/0, etc.) that indicate whether special instructions apply to the display of the heading in the 4XX or 5XX field and whether a tracing is restricted to the reference structure of a particular type of authority. Subfield $w need not be used if none of the characteristics is applicable. Because the definitions of the codes in subfield $w are dependent on the character position in which they occur, the coding of any character position mandates that each preceding character position contains a code or a fill character (); succeeding character positions need not be used. For example, if $w/0 and $w/1 are not applicable but $w/2 is applicable, then $w/0 and $w/1 each contain code n (Not applicable) or a fill character ().

/0 - Special relationship

Subfield $w/0 contains a one-character alphabetic code that describes a relationship between the heading in a 1XX field and a heading in a 4XX or 5XX field that is more specific than the relationship implicit in the tag. The codes may be used to generate a special reference instruction phrase in a cross reference display.

a - Earlier heading*b - Later heading*d - Acronym*f - Musical composition*g - Broader term*h - Narrower term*i - Reference instruction phrase in subfi*n - Not applicable*t - Immediate parent body*/1 - Tracing use restriction

Subfield $w/1 contains a one-character alphabetic code that specifies the authority reference structure in which the use of a 4XX or 5XX field to generate a cross reference is appropriate. When the tracing reference structure use differs from the use of the heading in the 1XX field, a tracing use restriction code in subfield $w/1 enables suppression or generation of the cross reference as required for the type of reference structure.

a - Name reference structure only*b - Subject reference structure only*c - Series reference structure only*d - Name and subject reference structures*e - Name and series reference structures*f - Subject and series reference structures*g - Name, subject, and series reference structures*n - Not applicable

Code n indicates that the authority structure use is the same as the bibliographic record use coded in 008/14-16 for the heading in the 1XX field. If code n is applicable, subfield $w/1 need not be coded unless a subsequent character position is required.

/2 - Earlier form of heading

Subfield $w/2 contains a one-character alphabetic code that indicates whether the heading in the 4XX field is an earlier form in which the name or subject was established either in the relevant national authority file or in an authority file other than the national authority file.

a - Pre-AACR 2 form of heading (national name authority file)*e - Earlier established form of heading (national authority file)*o - Earlier established form of heading (other authority file)n - Not applicable/3 - Reference display

Subfield $w/3 contains a one-character alphabetic code that enables the generation or suppression of a cross reference from a 4XX or 5XX field.

a - Reference not displayed*b - Reference not displayed, field 664 used*c - Reference not displayed, field 663 used*d - Reference not displayed, field 665 used*n - Not applicable

Ref Status 008/29: Reference evaluation

Indicates whether the 4XX/5XX tracing fields in a record have been evaluated for consistency with the rules used to formulate the 1XX heading in the record.

- a Tracings are consistent with the heading
- b Tracings are not necessarily consistent with the heading
- n Not applicable (The record contains no 4XX/5XX tracing fields)
- | No attempt to code

Auth Status 008/33: Level of establishment

Indicates the extent to which the formulation of the 100-15X heading conforms to the descriptive cataloging rules coded in 008/10 and/or the subject heading system/thesaurus conventions coded in 008/11.

- a Fully established
- b Memorandum
The 100-15X heading is fully established but has not been used in a bibliographic record. When the heading is used in a bibliographic record, code b may be changed to code a or c.
- c Provisional
The 100-15X heading cannot be formulated satisfactorily because of inadequate information. When the needed information is available, code c may be changed to code a.
- d Preliminary
The 100-15X heading is taken from a bibliographic record because the bibliographic item is not available at the time the heading is established. When a heading is used in a bibliographic record created from cataloging with an item in hand, code d may be changed to code a.
- n Not applicable
The 1XX field contains an unestablished heading in a reference, subdivision, reference and subdivision, or node label record.
- | No attempt to code

Auth/Ref 008/09: Kind of record

Indicates whether the record represents an established or unestablished 1XX heading.

- a Established heading
The 100-15X field contains an established name, name/title, uniform title, topical term, or one of these used in an extended subject heading.
- b Untraced reference
The 100-15X field contains an unestablished heading that is not traced as a 4XX field in any established heading record. The reference record contains a 260 or 666 field.
- c Traced reference
The 100-15X field contains an unestablished heading that is traced as a 4XX field in the record for each established heading referred to in fields 260 or 664.
- d Subdivision
The 18X field contains an unestablished heading that may be used as a subject subdivision with an established heading.
- e Node label
The 15X field contains an unestablished term that may be used in the systematic section of a thesaurus to indicate the logical basis on which a category is divided.
- f Established heading and subdivision
The 15X field contains an established heading that may be used as a main term and as a subject subdivision.
- g Reference and subdivision
The 15X field contains an unestablished heading that may be used as a reference term and as a subject subdivision.

Name 008/32: Undifferentiated personal name

Indicates whether a personal name heading contained in field 100 in an established heading record or a reference record is used by one person or by two or more persons.

- a Differentiated personal name (The name in field 100 is a unique name).
- b Undifferentiated personal name (The name in field 100 is used by two or more persons)
- n Not applicable (The 1XX heading is not a personal name or the personal name is a family name)
- o | No attempt to code
