Choosing an Access Model

Perpetual Access

1B1U

Our most affordable perpetual access model, the 1 Book 1 User model allows one user to access the eBook at a time.

1B3U

The 1 Book 3 User model is our mid-level access model, allowing a total of 3 users to simultaneously access an eBook.

1BUU

For maximum access, our 1 Book Unlimited User model provides no restrictions to access, making turnaways a thing of the past.

1BUU

For maximum access, our 1 Book Unlimited User model provides no restrictions to access, making turnaways a thing of the past.

ALSO...

Short Term Loans

EBSCO also offers Short Term Loans for eBooks. With Short Term Loans, you can grant your users temporary access to EBSCO eBooks while only paying a fraction of the list price. EBSCO also supports a Loan-to-Own model. Loan-to-Own allow your institution to calibrate your PDA so that it purchases an eBook after it experiences a certain number of loans. Short Term Loans are only available via our PDA collections. Loans are available in 1, 7, 14 and 28 day increments.

Ways to Build a Collection

eBook Collections

An easy way to begin building your eBook collection is to browse our line of Subject Sets and Featured Collections. These collections have been crafted by our team of collection development specialists and only include content relevant to a particular subject matter. You can purchase Subject Sets and Featured Collections directly in ECM.

Individual eBooks

If you are not interested in our collections, ECM makes it easy to search for and buy any eBook in EBSCO's extensive catalog. Search our catalog of eBooks and add eBooks to your shopping cart to buy them. Or, if you aren't ready to buy, create a list and add eBooks to the list. When you are ready to buy, add the list to your shopping cart and place the order.

PDA

PDA stands for Patron Driven Acquisition and it is becoming a popular way to build an eBook collection. Using a PDA collection, your institution can build a collection of eBooks and make it available to their users, but your institution will only have to pay for the eBooks that are actually used by their patrons on EBSCOhost. To learn more about how PDA works, visit the "What is PDA?" section.

« Back

Getting Started, Overview:

- 1. Notify EBSCOhost that you want to set up the PDA project.
- 2. Select “Deposit” or “Pay as you go” option and pay invoice when it arrives. ($2,500 minimum required for Deposit account.)
- 3. Set up account and start selecting titles.

Has several ways to select titles

Can have multiple “selection” accounts and “approver” accounts

Weekly reports of titles “triggered”

Email alerts when Deposit account drops below

More Features We Like:

Online reports of titles owned

Wide variety of publishers

Customer Rep very easy to work with

Other Considerations:

EBSCOhost doesn't have all publishers or much fiction.

Publishers set their own policies about Usage Patterns.

Many prices are higher than print list price.

We are not sure how to interpret some of the reports and neither was the Customer Service Rep.

More Considerations:

Titles can be removed by publishers when distribution rights change.

We don't use an approval plan or primary vendor for purchasing, so didn't need a system which worked with a vendor and didn't explore that option.

Set Up Library Account.
