Glossary of ebrary terms

3USER– Three-user perpetual license. A title purchased as 3USER means three (3) users can access the document concurrently. Users will be automatically rolled over to the next available copy if the first one or two are in use.

Book – A document available on ebrary. Interchangeably called book, document, or title. Most ebrary titles are books, but some are journals, maps, or sections of books made available as a separate document by the publisher.

Channel – Also referred to as a site. A hosted ebrary website that provides access to all the documents (subscription, perpetual access, or DASH) for a particular customer such as a school, company, university, or public library.

Collection – An aggregate of books sharing one more similar attributes.

DASH! - Stands for 'Data Sharing Fast'. It's an ebrary product that empowers libraries to create, upload, and share their own PDF collections, right from their own computers.

DDA – Demand Driven Acquisition. It is YBP's ebrary PDA.

eBOP - ebrary Ordering Platform. An eBOP title one that has been purchased from ebrary as a perpetual access title.

Extended Access – Also referred to as Turnaway Prevention, allows an administrator to set rules for a sought-after, but in-use, single-user title to initiate a just-in-time loan, upgrade, or additional purchase – thereby extending availability on demand.

Loan - Also referred to as Short-Term Loan or STL. A loan is an ebrary book that is made available on an ebrary site for 1 day or 1 week (depending on the library's preferences) at a fraction of the book's purchase price.

Multi-user – Multi-user titles can be accessed by an unlimited number of users at the same time. All titles in subscription collections (for example, Academic
