Scholars Resource	Scholars Resource is an extensive resource of high quality images that provides comprehensive coverage of works of art essential for teaching. We offer complementary image collections from Saskia Ltd., Davis Art Images, Hartill Art Associates, Archivision and The Bridgeman Art Library—with additional collections continually being added. Scholars Resource uniquely provides the convenience of licensing high quality images and metadata in consistent formats from multiple vendors at one online source. Our images and metadata allow you to immediately replace your analog collection with an easily searchable, high-quality digital image library, saving you time and resources. All of our images are licensed in perpetuity for a one-time fee. Special rates are available for licensing of our entire archive and also for consortial groups. Once licensed, images become part of your permanent collection for teaching art history.	http://www.scholarsresource.com/	Vended	No	3
AICT - Allan Kohl's Art Images for College Teaching	In addition to Allan's own location photos of world art and architecture are projects which include American sheet music covering from the early 20th century, the Civil War cartoons by illustrator John Tenniel, and historic illustrations of architecture (including floor plans, elevations, and sectional drawings) from older publications now out of copyright. The images have been scanned as 600 dpi TIFF master files, and the cataloguing prepared as fielded Filemaker item records. There are, to my knowledge, no legal impediments to the unrestricted use of this material; any rights in the original photographs are mine to bestow. There are also some interesting photos of Millennium Park and Chicago public sculpture.	http://arthist.cla.umn.edu/aict/html/index.html	Free	No	1
