IDforDeduplication: Notice how the IDforDeduplication is the same number for all of these rows. This means that these rows all represent a single patron request.

YourLibBIB_ID: The value in each of these rows is different, meaning that your library had 31 BIBs where the record had the same NORMAL_HEADING 2450 value as the request, "THREE PLAYS". In the case of this request, you need to review the other fields such as author, title, publisher, and publisher date to determine if there is a match. For this request, there is not.

RequestAuthor and YourLibAUTHOR: The request is for an item by Alan Ayckbourn; your library does not have a result written by Alan Ayckbourn, at least not with this normalized title.

RequestNetworkNumber and YourLibNetworkNumber: Notice that the OCLC number for the item the patron requested does not match any of the OCLC numbers in your library's bibs. Your library does not have a match for this item based on normalized title.

RequestPubDate and YourLibPubDate: These values can help you determine which edition or publication year the patron requested, vs. the edition/publication year owned at your library. For some requests the publication year may matter more than others.

NORMAL_HEADING_2450: These three results all have the same normalized title. Using other information about the title, such as author, publisher, publisher date, and OCLC number can help you confirm a match, or not.
