HOW RESEARCH CONSULTATIONS FIT
Research Consultations as Library Instruction

"Research consultations live somewhere in-between reference and instruction. Reference desk transactions tend to discourage in-depth interactions, and library instruction - due to time constraints - prevents personalized individual attention."

Luke Vilelle, 2014
CAPSTONE OR THESIS COURSES
Upper-level students engaging with challenging and complex topics.

TIME AND PREPARATION
Gives Librarians time to review topics and conduct preliminary searches.

ONE ON ONE ASSISTANCE
Ability to learn what students need; where gaps in their research is, where they're struggling.
Connections to the Framework

Mapping framework to concepts and learning outcomes in research consultations

- Improving skills with a specific resource or database
- Mining an existing bibliography or works cited to locate further sources

Research as Inquiry
Knowledge Practices (KP) and Dispositions (D)

- Formulate questions for research based on information gaps or on reexamination of existing, possibly conflicting information (KP)
- Deal with complex research by breaking complex questions into simply ones, limiting the scope of investigations (KP)
- Use various research methods, based on need, circumstance, and type of inquiry (KP)
- Monitor gathered information and assess for gaps or weaknesses (KP)
- Appreciate that a question may appear to be simple but still disruptive and important to research (D)
- Seek multiple perspectives during information gathering and assessment (D)
- Seek appropriate help when needed (D)
