

zotero

ANNOTATE RECORDS

The image consists of three screenshots of the Zotero application interface, illustrating different methods to add notes to a record.

- Top Screenshot: Shows the 'Notes' tab selected for a record titled 'Chernobyl disaster - Wikipedia, the...'. A red arrow points to the 'Add' button in the 'Notes' tab, with a red callout box labeled 'notes tab'.
- Middle Screenshot: Shows the 'Info' tab selected for the same record. The main content area displays the text of the Wikipedia article. A red arrow points to the text, with a red callout box labeled 'searchable content'.
- Bottom Screenshot: Shows the 'Info' tab with a right-click context menu open over the record. The 'Add Note' option is highlighted. A red arrow points to this option, with a red callout box labeled 'alternate method to add notes'.

This project was made possible in part by a research award from the Consortium of Academic and Research Libraries in Illinois, <https://www.carli.illinois.edu>.

Consortium of Academic and Research
Libraries in Illinois